Fine Reports Made by Majors and Captains in the First Day's Campaign

MAY REACH GOAL TOMORROW

One hundred and ninety-four was the score of the first day of the Chamber of Commerce expansion drive, almost one-half of the goal of 400.

A mighty cheer greeted the figures when they were posted on the blackboard at the luncheon today in the Elks' Club.

A few of the teams did not report they will tomorrow as there is not a pessimist in the organization, everybody thinks the second day will show close to the goal of 400. The team reports of today:

Major, B. B. Fox, 6; Captains, R. Y. Golden, 7; D. R. Horrell, 0; Gen. W. Wright, 0; R. C. Mousner, 15.

Major, W. H. Milliken, 0; Captains, Harry W. Gebb, 25; Cleve Mathers, 3; Arch Osborne, 0; Fred Prych, 3.

Major, Fred W. Pieper, 0; Captains, Bruce K. Barnett, 11; Fred W. Brady, 2; Jos. M. Brand, 0.

Major, Howard Terbusch, 44; Captains, C. S. Bliss, 13; H. E. Price, 0; John B. Schafer, 15; J. G. Steinbaugh, 17.

Major, Carl M. Wertz, 15; Captains, C. W. Davidson, 2; Dr. B. D. Bickrick, 0; Paul A. Kimmis, 4; Guy Woodward, 11.

Women's Division, Mrs. M. B. Richardson, Major, 7.

Total number, 197.

Officially the drive opened at 9 o'clock this morning, when the members of the teams met in the Municipal building for a few words of final instructions and consultation. Unofficially, the enrollment of Chamber memberships has been on since Friday evening, and this fact accounts in part for the time showing made the first day.

It is not expected that tomorrow will show quite as good a total. The second day of such efforts is often accompanied by a falling off. But the third day should find the teams on "their toes" again.

All doubt of the success of the movement has already vanished. This point was emphasized at the luncheon today when several of the men said if there had been any citizens of the Charleroi community who were holding off to see whether this movement was going to go through, they need wait no longer.

Planned as a five day drive, the daily average need be only 80 memberships to attain the goal of 400.

Going at the rate indicated by the opening day, one of two things is bound to happen; perhaps both of them: The goal is going to be great. It exceeded, or the time will be shortened from five to four or even three days.

Already the men who are making the movement a success are talking of closing with a big evening celebration. Their idea is that on the last day instead of a luncheon at noon there shall be a wind-up supper

WERE MARRIED

THIS MORNING

The wedding of Miss Margaret Scrothers of Vesta and Frank Livingston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Livingston, of Charleroi, was solemnized at 9 o'clock this morning in the rectory of St. Jerome's Catholic Church. Rev. Father Price performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Livingston are both well known young people in Charleroi and their many friends wish them happiness and prosperity. After a short wedding trip they will be at home in Charleroi.

LARGE AUDIENCE

HEARS MR. PRICE

The service at the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday morning was most gratifying. The large audience filled every pew and chairs were placed in the aisles and in the rear of the pews.

No one was disappointed in the message of the hour. Mr. Price was at his best. The gospel of just dealing with Jesus Christ who is the partner of every true Christian was declared most forcibly. The law of the title was declared to be the law under which we live. Business men were recommended to pray over their business that they may succeed in accumulating more honest money and thus have more to give to the Lord's work. Mr. Price reminded his hearers that this is the only world in which money is used and possessed of value; also, that life is very short and that all we have belongs to the Lord.

That Mr. Price believes the doctrine he preached is evidenced by the fact that he is a successful business man, possessed of large wealth and means, and practices the distribution of money which he recommends to others.

WAGE REDUCTION

AT DOCK PLANTS

Employees at dock plants and marine ways on the river have been notified of a reduction in wages, effective on the 15th of January. The reduction will amount to 15 per cent. Laborers being reduced from $5.20 to $4.50 for eight hours work, and carpenters and caulkers from $8 to $6.60 for a day of the same length. Reports from down river districts say the men will accept the reduction and keep on working.

Bishop Canevin to Visit
Charleroi Next Sunday

Rev. J. F. Regis Canevin, who recently resigned as Bishop of the Pittsburgh diocese of the Catholic church will come to Charleroi next Sunday afternoon, January 23, to preside at the yearly meeting of the Missionary Fraternity of Christian doctrine, to be held in St. Jerome's Lyceum at 3 o'clock. The Bishop will be accompanied by Rev. D. A. Lawless, Director of the Fraternity. This meeting will be for the Charleroi and Monongahela branches. Reports of the work for the past year will be read and addresses will be made by the Bishop and others. Priests and laymen from the surrounding towns will be present.

The organization has for its object the promotion of home missionary activity in the diocese of Pittsburgh; it is a society of Catholic men and women banded together for the purpose of organizing and conducting catechism classes in mining towns, country places or any other locality.

LARGE ASSEMBLIES
AT THREE SERVICES

The evangelistic services which began with the "Week of Prayer" in the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church reached a climax on Sunday in the three services held, when there was a total of thirty professions. The morning service was very impressive and at the Young Peoples Rally in the afternoon the largest assembly in years was in attendance. Sunday night the church was taxed to its utmost capacity and many were turned away. The music was a feature. The Men's Bible Class turned out in a body with 66 men present and gave a musical number. A pleasing part of the services was a solo by Marion Kinder, accompanied by Miss Bethel Bowman. The choir was praised for their part in the success of the evening. At a critical point in the services the lights all went out but the audience sang an old hymn, and the incident passed without any commotion. The members lingered until a late hour, many expressing the belief that the day was one of the greatest in the history of the church in recent years.

BOMB EXPLOSIONS

AT CALIFORNIA

Two bomb explosions, believed due to a Black Hand propaganda, took place in California early this morning. The first at 2:10 and the second at 2:15 o'clock.

The first bomb was exploded on the front porch of a Jewish family in Avenue's row on an alley leading off Second street. The floor and ceiling of the porch were destroyed, while all the glass in windows in the immediate vicinity was shattered.

The second explosion took place at the foot of a stairway leading to the basement under the shoe repair shop of Frank Rosa, on Third street. As with the former explosion, considerable damage was done to the front of the building, while all the glass in windows in that neighborhood was broken. No one was injured, but it is estimated that the amount of damage will be approximately $1,000 at each place. There is no clue to the perpetrator, who is believed to be a member of a Black Hand society which is trying to scare away some Italian families in that town.

SIMCO SALVE LEAVES SKIN HEALTHY

Dr. F. J. John will give you your money back. SIMCO SALVE is so softening to the diseased skin, so penetrating, so cooling and refreshing and such an active antiseptic healer that you will experience the most wonderful surprise of your life at the results obtained in using it for eczema, salt rheum, tetter, rash, chafing or ugly scaly bleeding skin.

SIMCO SALVE is such an active healing ointment that bruises, cuts, burns and sores soon vanish where it is applied and it is so pliable that it is a mighty good rubbing liniment for anything that a good rubbing liniment is used for. It will not, cannot injure and it takes only a 30c jar to prove its benefits. Your money back if it fails.

Those who are employed in public places and are in danger of contraction of skin affections from using towels or wash bowl that has been used by others should apply a little SIMCO SALVE to the hands and face every night. It will not soil the skin and may save you future trouble by warding off some obnoxious, lingering skin afflictions.

Simply get a 30c jar of SIMCO SALVE at F. J. Johns today for that skin trouble and the first application will convince you that the small sum of 30c was well spent. Usually one jar is enough and F. J. John's is authorized to give you your money back if you are not delighted with the results of its use. We want to prove to every one in Charleroi at our risk of expense that SIMCO SALVE is best adapted to these annoying skin troubles.

In addition to the above SIMCO SALVE is used with surprising results as an application to the chest and throat for croup, pleurisy, colds, coughs, Spanish influenza and pneumonia, because when so applied, the heat of the body causes it to give off antiseptic fumes which are inhaled, thus directly reaching the inside of the lungs as well as penetrating from the outside. Sold in three sizes, 30c, 60c and $1.00 per jar. If your druggist does not keep it, order from Wm. M. Simpson Drug Co., Wholesale Druggists, Wilkesburg Station, Pittsburg, Pa.

Uganda's Fauna.

Fauna of Uganda is probably unequalled in variety and importance in any other country in the world. On the lakes are found a great number of water birds, storks, cranes, herons, flamingoes, geese, and ducks, but the finest are perhaps the huge eagles, which prey on the fish of which there is a great variety. Hippopotami and crocodiles haunt all the waters in the country. On land, elephants are found in large numbers; buffaloes are found near the swamps; wild boars, hyenas, leopards, and wildcats infest the woods, where smaller creatures such as squirrels, gray parrots, monkeys, and guinea fow are found. In the wild and more open country to the north there are rhinoceroses, zebras, ostriches and many varieties of antelope.

Highest Type of Courage.

The best examples of heroism are found in everyday life. To keep steadily on in the face of obstacles takes courage. There's little in life's commonplace to awaken poetry, but there's much to challenge admiration. With neither flag nor drum beat many an heroic soul fights against odds that seem to have no chance for success. Yet when the soul is headed right it knows neither retreat nor defeat. It has learned only to move forward. No matter how hard the struggle is, it keeps on. In the face of severest trials great advances have been made. When poverty rises to shake off its fetters through an attempt to serve humanity it challenges to unequal combat and wins in proportion to the justice of its cause.

Mythical Corvina Stone.

The corvina or corvina is the name of an imaginary stone that belongs to the superstitions of long ago. According to the old superstition this stone will cause the owner to be both rich and honored. It was to be obtained in this manner: Take the eggs from a crow's nest, and boil them hard then replace them in the nest, and the mother will go in search of the stone in order to revivify her eggs. After the mother crow had brought the wonderful stone to her nest, it was, of course to be taken from her, and the robber of the nest would become rich and honored.

Human Life Grows Longer.

The ancient traditions of patriarchal life extending to many centuries are founded on the very reverse of scientific evidence, and instead of life in the past being longer than it is now, it has been shown that since the famous psalmist gave human life its limits of three score years and ten, human life has grown longer with civilization. In fact, in civilized countries the average length of life has been on the increase for three centuries. The scientific teaching of right living is, on the whole, yielding good results.

"Hello" Old Wolf Call.

The old wolf hunter's call was used in France first and afterward in England, but there are no wolves in England now and the bugle call has been forgotten in both countries, therefore we "paint it green" and call it our own. French was spoken in English court circles, so the titled wolf hunters used the French cry of "hal le loup" or "a' lou loup" (loup being pronounced loo), the cry being "a la loo," the English put on the H and made it halloo, and we made it hello, which is an American expression, as all the telephone girls know.—Boys' Life.

SAYS OLD AGE DUE TO LOST GLAND POWER

Also the Cause of Many General Run-Down Conditions

Animal Extract Tablets Now Used to Build Health and Strength for Young and Old

Is it necessary for men and women to become old at 35 or 40 due to our present method of living or is science coming to the rescue and turn the clock back for those of us who are growing old before our time?

This is the question that is uppermost in many people's minds since the announcements concerning monkey and other animal gland operations startled the world a few months ago. When men of seventy and eighty were reported to have experienced a return of health and strength that they had not enjoyed in many years, as a result of the animal strength thus imparted.

These animal gland operations are not the only thing. Science has discovered that it is possible to put gland extracts in tablet form much the same as peppermint is taken from an animal. As a matter of fact there is already on the market a preparation containing gland extracts from sheep and cattle combined with iron which is being used with apparently great success by thousands who were weak, thin, pale, and anemic, and who are now enjoying a brighter health, strength and endurance.

This new preparation is called Glandex Compound and is sold by nearly all druggists under the manufacturer's guarantee that if it doesn't bring decided results within a very few days the purchase price will be refunded. So perhaps the fountain of youth and health has at last been discovered. Who knows? Certainly it is worth trying. The Glandex Company, Inc., 244 West 29th St., New York City.

The Real "Mother Goose."

"Mother Goose" was a real character, and not an imaginary personage as has been supposed. Her maiden name was Elizabeth Foster and she was born in 1655. She married Isaac Goose in 1683 and a few years later became a member of the Old South Church, Boston. She died in 1757 and lived two years. The first edition of her songs, which were originally sung to her grandchildren, was published in 1719 by her son-in-law, Thomas Fleet.

Appetite Not Quite Gone.

Mary had reached the stage of satiety where she steadfastly refused all offers of "a little more turkey," "a bit more dressing or mashed potato," or "another piece of bread." Nothing apparently could tempt her to eat another mouthful. Finally, however, the meats, raisins and candies were passed. "Yes, I will have some," said Mary, and then, apparently thinking her conduct needed some explanation, she added: "I can still eat little things."

New York Statistics.

For the various expenses of its own government, New York city spends almost $50,000,000 a year—more than the Japanese empire. It has 1,000 churches, 1,100 hotels and 1,900 churches. It turns out one-tenth of all the manufactured goods of the country, one-fourth of all the printed matter, and one-half of all the clothing. The annual output of its 35,000 factories is worth more than $2,000,000,000.

Early Name for Cranberries.

John Josselyn, an English traveler and naturalist who visited New England in 1673 and wrote an account of its "Rarities," says: "Cranberry, or bear berry (because bears used much to feed upon them) is a small trailing plant that grows in salt marshes that are overgrown with moss. The Indians and English use them much, boiling them with sugar for sauce to eat with their meat."

Influence of Toys.

The toy ugly in form, design or color should not be given to children for it may offend an inherited artistic sense, and misdirect a budding instinct for those things which are beautiful. One cannot expect a child to develop good taste if he is surrounded by articles and playthings which violate all the canons of symmetry and color.

One Friend Didn't Bother Her.

Peggy used exceedingly bad English and was continually being corrected by her teacher, also her mother and aunt. One day after the usual "settle" she heaved a sigh and, putting her arms around her pet dog, said: "Oh Spots, ain't I glad you don't know grammar?"

But She Didn't Enjoy It.

With reference to the recent divorce suit in which the wife told the judge she married her husband so that she could enjoy his bathtub, a correspondent wittily remarks that the husband seems to have kept her in hot water all right.—Boston Transcript.

Moor's Holy City.

Shashuan, in Morocco, is one of the few cities left in the world whose streets have never been trodden by a white man. It is the holy city of the Moors, and is so jealously guarded that no European explorer has ever been able to enter it.

Origin of Boston's Tremont Street. The origin of Boston's Tremont street is said to be a corruption of Tremontum, by which name the town of Boston was first known owing to the presence of three high hills serving as a background to the peninsula.

Original "Limerick."

The word is said to have been adopted as a name for a certain kind of nonsense rhyme because an old song current in Ireland, which had the same verse construction, contained the place name "Limerick."

Day Is What One Makes It.

Every day that is born into the world comes like a burst of music and rings itself all the day through; and then shall make of it a dance, a dirge, or a life worth as then wilt.—Thomas Carlyle

He Should Worry.

He was a wise man that said that he "couldn't" be in worry. In the daytime he was too busy and at night he was too sleepy.—The Black and White (New Concord, Ohio).

Explaining His Name.

Frank, whose maternal grandmother had been married three times on being asked for whom he was named, said: "My name was named after mother's first mother."

Thought He Needed Clothes.

A young fellow who was the crack printer of his town—somewhere in the South—was unfortunate enough to have a very dilatory laundress. One evening when he was out for a practice run in his rather airy and abbreviated track costume, he chanced to dash past the house of that dusky lady, who at the time was a couple of weeks in arrears with his washing. He had scarcely reached home again when the bell rang furiously and a excited voice was wafted in from the porch: "Foh de Lawd's sake, won't you all tell Marse Bob please not to go on to noah run I kin git his clothes round to him?"—Augusta Herald

Apricots in Sheets.

On lower Washington street in New York are some shops frequented by the Arabs who happen to be located in that city and there is to be found a dila. This red-brown corklike sheeting looks as though it might be a new kind of clothing; but if you raise it cautiously to the nose and sniff implacably, you will detect the pungent fruity odor of dried apricots. That is just what it is—dried apricots pressed into this form. It is more quickly made than the regulation dried apricots, and can be used for exactly the same purposes.
